

Treasure Hunting

Arrr, me harties! The Red Room Children have been showing an interest in pirates! In the classroom, the children were given an opportunity to hunt for buried treasure. Using forks to sift the sand, the children searched for little gems. They then put them into cups and were able to count them afterwards to see who found the most treasure! Some of the children drew their own treasure maps, and some even had a go at writing their own numbers to show how much treasure they had found!

Children's comments:

- "I found 16 treasures" - Jayden
- "I can count 10 treasure" - Retal
- "Look how many I find, I find lots!" - Nayantara
- "I am going to draw it, X marks the spot" - Salsabeel
 - "This treasure is a heart" - Merina
 - "The pirates buried it" - Emuna
